

About FNS

Future Nation Schools (FNS) offers affordable and high-quality 21st century education for pre-school, primary school and high school. This education is composed with an enhanced National CAPS curriculum, Project-Based Learning model and IEB examination in Grade 12.

Founded in 2017 by Sizwe Nxasana and Dr Judy Dlamini. FNS is a network of independent private schools that aim to lead the African Education Revolution by providing a model that is futuristic, technology-enabled and epitomises excellence in Africa.

We offer affordable, African-centred, private education

Educational Model

Our pre-school model is outcomes- and project-based and is taught in line with the national curriculum framework. The holistic development of a pre-school student is centred around language enrichment, goals, individual needs, development of fine- and gross motor skills as well as wellness through interactive learning labs.

Before primary school, students go through a complimentary school-readiness assessment that measures the following areas: perception, spatial; reasoning; numerical; gestalt; coordination; memory and verbal comprehension.

We teach the national CAPS curriculum which we integrate with our Project-Based Learning (PBL) teaching methodology from primary school level to Grade 12. Our students write the IEB examinations in Grade 12.

PBL is a method of teaching in which students gain knowledge and skills by working on projects for an extended period of time where they learn how to question, investigate, research, design solutions to respond to complex challenges.

We focus on enhancing leadership and entrepreneurship skills where students learn resilience, self-management, innovation, adaptability, decision making, risk taking and business acumen.

Computing is taught from Grade 1 to Grade 11. Students learn about programming, robotics and other computing skills. The aim is to prepare them for the exponential growth in technology.

The FNS teaching model emphasises African Studies with a specific focus on African literature, arts, crafts, indigenous games, African history and Indigenous Knowledge Systems.

The language of instruction is English; and the first additional languages available are isiZulu and Setswana - in selected grades and schools.

Please enquire directly with your preferred campus and grade with regards to additional language availability.

School Gear

Rather than school uniform, we have school gear which allows students to create their own look every day.

School gear is available for purchase from Rufaro Garments at our campus shop in Fleurhof, at their store in Melrose (81 Corlett Drive) and online at www.rufarogarments.com/future-nation.

Future Nation pre-school students are not required to wear school gear.
